Where are we located?

Fort Yukon is located about 150 miles from Fairbanks. The only way in or out, in the winter, is by airplane. In the summer, the nearest road to Fairbanks is in Circle (90 miles up the Yukon River).

WE are THERE THAT NONE PERISH

Fort Yukon is home to 600 people, most of whom are Gwich'in Athabascan Native Alaskans. The Yukon Flats region hosts 7 other Athabascan villages, some with no church at all. This region holds the Alaskan record for high temps (100˚F) in the summer and just a few degrees shy of the cold record (-80˚F) in the winter.

U.S. Missions ...that none perish

Mission Alaska is the ministry of Assembly of God U.S. Missionaries, Jeremiah & Sharnay Niemuth. Since 2004, God has been using this couple to reach the villages of the Yukon Flats with the message of hope and salvation through Jesus Christ. They have been serving as lead pastors of Fort Yukon Assembly of God since 2006.

God has called them to a long-term work in this region and they are passionate about that call.

Vision:

To encourage, empower, and equip the local body of Christ to reach the lost through preaching, teaching, and living the Word of God and following the leading of His Spirit.

Discipleship: Mission Alaska practices the discipleship model, established by Jesus. Through teaching, challenging, and releasing people to do the work of the ministry, we grow the body of Christ.

Outreach: Stepping outside of our social circle and bringing the gospel to the unsaved in practical and meaningful ways is a crucial part of this ministry.

Unity: Working together with each other, as well as other churches and individuals, is critical to the stability, maturity, and longevity of this mission.
